Only When I Lose Myself

Depeche Mode

It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself Something beautiful is happening inside of me Something sensual, it's full of fire and mystery I feel hypnotized, I feel paralyzed I have found heaven There's a thousand reasons Why I shouldn't spend my time with you For every reason not to be here I can think of two Keep me hanging on Feeling nothing's wrong Inside your heaven It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself I can feel the emptiness inside me fade and disappear There's a feeling of contentment now that you are here I feel satisfied I belong inside Your velvet heaven Did I need to sell my soul For pleasure like this Did I have to lose control To treasure your kiss Did I need to place my heart In the palm of your hand Before I could even start To understand It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself It's only when I lose myself in someone else That I find myself I find myself
