Sister of Night

Depeche Mode

Sister of night When the hunger descends And your body's a fire An inferno that never ends An eternal flame That burns in desire's name

Sister of night When the longing returns Giving voice to the flame Calling you through flesh that burns Breaking down your will To move in for the kill

Oh sister, come for me Embrace me, assure me Hey sister, I feel it too Sweet sister, just feel me I'm trembling, you heal me Hey sister, I feel it too

Sister of night In your saddest dress As you walk through the light You're desperate to impress So you slide to the floor Feeling insecure

Sister of night With the loneliest eyes Tell yourself it's alright He'll make such a perfect prize But the cold light of day Will give the game away

Oh sister, come for me Embrace me, assure me Hey sister, I feel it too Sweet sister, just feel me I'm trembling, you heal me Hey sister, I feel it too
