

Silhouette

Depswa

Sometimes
Mixed emotions they ramble on inside
For a false sense of reality
So I try to escape
From this place that brings me down
Cause I feel there's nothing else
Left inside me anymore

And I thought I saw a face in the wake you
Here in my mind again
I thought I saw a face in the wake of you
But now I can't find you anymore

And I try to erase all these feelings that I have
Of that happy perfect life
There's just a cold and darkened memory
And i have to pretend that you're here for awhile
But I know that's just a wishful temporary remedy

And I want to
There's a need to
To believe in something
Something that won't leave me heartless
And I want to
There's a need to
Know that there's something
Something that won't pass me by

And I thought I saw a face in the wake you
Here in my mind again
I thought I saw a face in the wake of you
But now I can't find you anymore

I know that there's reasons to forget what was had
To leave all our past behind us
So I try to make myself forget
But it really hasn't happened yet
And I know that there must be a reason why

And I want to
There's a need to
To believe in something
Something that won't leave me heartless
And I want to
There's a need to
Know that there's something
Something that won't pass me by

I thought I saw a face in the wake you
Here in my mind again
I thought I saw a face in the wake of you
But now I can't find you anymore

I thought I saw a face in the wake of you
But now I can't find

I thought I saw a face in the wake of you

But now I can't find you anymore

I thought I saw a face in the wake of you
But now I can't find you anymore