

I Love Hate You

Derek Webb

Baby when I put my hands on you
I feel like I'm touching the earth
I'm breaking ground and the soil is wet,
Slipping through my hands

Baby when I put my eyes on you
I follow the curves of the moon
The oceans rise and come crashing down
Onto the shore

But your love is a noose around my neck
I give up and I know I will regret it
Your love is a weight around my legs
But I don't know who I am unless you're holding me

Baby when I listen to your words
They whisper to me like the wind
But they're strong enough to blow me down
And destroy my house

But your love is a noose around my neck
I give up and I know I will regret it
Your love is a weight around my legs
But I don't know who I am unless you're holding me

Baby when listen to your words
Baby when I put my eyes on you
Baby when I put my hands on you
I love/hate you