

I Still Believe In You

Desert Rose Band

Beautiful liar, heartless survivor,
Where are you taking me now
Smooth operator, do it all later,
When will you ever come down
I still believe in you now,
Somehow, I still believe in you now
We've been together a year and forever,
You should know me by now

There's trouble in my mind,
I can't find the right lines
To get to you somehow
I still believe in you now,
Somehow, I still believe in you now

And that feeling that I get inside
Everytime I see the sun in your eyes
Then the moon starts to crying
Our hearts not denying
A feeling we can hold through the night

Beautiful dreamer make me life sweet
Dream a song in my heart
I'm running on empty
I know you've been tempted
To close the door from the start
I still believe in you now somehow
I still believe in you now

And that feeling that I get inside
Everytime I see the sun in your eyes
Then the moon starts to crying
Our hearts not denying
A feeling we can hold through the night

Beautiful liar, heartless survivor,
Where are you taking me now
Smooth operator, do it all later,
When will you ever come down
I still believe in you now,
Somehow, I still believe in you now
I still believe in you now,
Somehow, I still believe in you now
