

Start All Over Again

Desert Rose Band

Do I have to change my name
Move to another town start all over again
Nothing seems to feel the same whenever you're around
You treat me like an old friend
Do I have to fake love do I have to make love
From the punishments and promises you hand to me
What is this attitude if this is really you
Then you're not all that you make yourself out to be
I see that you've been courting fame under another name
Tell me where does it end
Just who's the one you're looking for behind that unknown door
Should I start over again
Do I have to fake love do I have to make love
From the punishments and promises you hand to me
What is this attitude if this is really you
Then you're not all that you make yourself out to be
But I've got a brand new life I've got the song of love
And if only you could share all that I'm dreaming of

Do I have to fake love do I have to make love
From the punishments and promises you hand to me
What is this attitude if this is really you
Then you're not all that you make yourself out to be
Do I have to change my name
Move to another town start all over again
Start all over again start all over again
