

Time Passes Me By

Desert Rose Band

It's morning, she wakes me with a soft loving sigh
Like the sun shining through the western sky
She holds me close against her breast,
Such a sweet lullabye
And I'll love her until time passes me by

She's a precious thing, a gift from God
How can one be so true
In a world filled with helplessness and gloom
And no one knows just how I feel
Just a personal reply
And I'll love her, until time passes me by

Cloudy and blue
Our love shining through
A light from above Heaven's love
Timeless and true

From ages past and times to come
Love will always be alive
Healing hands of time for those who try
I was helpless and so confused
You came into my life
And I'll love you, until time passes me by
