

Another cigarette, another beer
Now tell me something that I want to hear
That you like my style, my band, my hair
That I could end up in your underwear

Know it's ridiculous but I don't care
Cause I got something in my pants to share
I got to puke goddamn I sway
And on my knees I heard her say

Let me tell you who you are
You want more than just a kiss
When I told you you're the one
There's still something that you miss
Guys like you don't know themselves
But think they redefine what's cool
Don't want somebody who helps
Guys like you are fools

I need to scream and I need to dance
I'm full of joy and of ignorance
And there's a ringing at the door again
Is that my best friends fuckin hot girlfriend?

Know it's ridiculous but I don't care
Cause I got something in my pants to share
I got to puke goddamn I sway
And on my knees I heard her say

Let me tell you who you are
You want more than just a kiss
When I told you you're the one
There's still something that you miss
Guys like you don't know themselves
But think they redefine what's cool
Don't want somebody who helps
Guys like you are fools

Let me tell you who you are
You want more than just a kiss
When I told you you're the one
There's still something that you miss
Guys like you don't know themselves
But think they redefine what's cool
Don't want somebody who helps
Guys like you are ..

Let me tell you who you are
You want more than just a kiss
When I told you you're the one
There's still something that you miss
Guys like you don't know themselves
But think they redefine what's cool
Don't want somebody who helps
Guys like you are ..
