

A Thousand Falling Skies

Destinity

What would be my thoughts if the bleeding skies should be burn and should be the last light on the earth?
What would be my thoughts if I live my end like my dream which I too often saw and hoped?

Humans are the fear and the hate!
We are the shame of us.
Humans are the plague and the dust!
We are the end of ourselves.

Although I called upon our morbid end
I have always dread and hope to life still stay in weakness until I crave the life guarding pride and ready to fuckin' die...

What would be my thoughts if I live my end like my dream which I too often saw and hoped?

Through the virgin sky
I see red flames on the earth
I am afraid to see darkness replaces lives...

Apocalyptic day... A world which I liked too much Apocalyptic day... A thousand falling skies...

The universal genocide arrives from this red sky
You always lived through the eyes of others
The flames will fall down burning humanity
