Taste Of Tragedy

Into the void of Accusation Into the point of No return

Give me a shelter From your rain The fall of anger Storm of pain Our surface breaks in Agony Your bitter voice tastes Tragedy

So here's the frozen silence The shadow of our lives The space between two spirits A child of our lies

Turn away Two shattered eyes in pain Life betrays Frustration of a dying flame Mind decays Words swallowed by the blame Fall astray Our feelings slowly fades

The taste of tragedy engulf The feelings that no longer lives

The thorn of disbelief Raping souls Our web of trust now Filled with holes Cold chains of everyday Bleeding scars Different living minds Drifting apart

So here's the frozen silence The shadow of our lives The space between two spirits A child of our lies
