

What Happened

Devotchkas

One person talks a lot of shit and everyone listens another speaks the truth and no one cares the scene is nothing but blank stares no one has a mind of their own

What happened to the music?
I can't hear it!
What happened to the unity?
I can't see it!
What's happened to the scene? It's all lies.

The lies are spreading fast like a nasty disease the kids are gonna' agree just to appease you're all full of shit and I don't care
You can take your rumors and shove 'em up your ass

Who are you to judge—you're not a king Sit on your throne but you'll be alone Don't let your ego soar 'cause' no ones listening you're gonna' be the one who's left behind

This whole things gonna' blow up in your face Everyone's gonna' realize you're a disgrace you think you've got the scene by the collar But people will realize and stop being followers

You think you've got the scene under your wing but things aren't always as they seem it's slipping from your fingers as I speak You're gonna' realize your way too weak