

Starspangled

Dew-Scented

Entangled in an everpresent veil, following the steps to infinity

Beware, don't hold me before I finish conquering the fortress

Just creep downwards and dig for affinity in the dirt

Only fools will join you, you are lost in this labyrinth called earth

Starspangled, reaching for light, starspangled, 1 2 3 4 freed

Thoughts, body and soul, aims are nothing but a frame

The power sleeps within, stand up and touch our sky

Nobody will seize you unless you fear

No relief, you are forever bound to reality

Scattered now and tomorrow, blinded by your fears for unending years, so go!
