Justice For Saint Mary

Diablo Swing Orchestra

Seizures may guide me, insanity found me I smile as your vanity sings us to sleep Burning from both sides, secrets we can't hide That halo you're wearing, it's not yours to keep

Stolen, and maybe broken, Since all that you left Is a life that can never be whole again Fallen, I heard the warning, 'Cause all that I had was a life That can never be whole again

Will you wait in my honour? Save what's left of it In vain, when it's there For all to see Will I wait in your honour? Save what's left of it In vain, when it's there For all to see

Hear, The sound of violence It's a beat that Makes us dance You sway And I follow your lead Drained, like a landmine Armed and primed Your words, They sound like mine We all shall repent What we've done In time

Confession in real time Lies could have been mine Naked are words that Are dressed up in truth Light up with voices Screaming your choices All that was lost just To keep you from harm

Spoken, like you told them, for all that I Left was a battle that I'll never fight again Show them we're above them, For all that I have is heart unsure If even time can mend
