

Gone

Diana Ross

You've been in love once before
But never quite like this, no
And you fall in love more and more
With every single kiss, yeah

So tell me why do you do the things
That you continue to do
When I'm not the one who hurt you so
I wouldn't cheat on you

It can't keep goin' on
Like the feelin' doesn't exist
Or the one you love
Will be the one you miss

Then you'll dream about love and how it would be
But then you'll wake up to reality to find I'm gone, I'm gone
Then you'll start to think and reminisce
'Cause it's my hugs and kisses you'll miss
But I'm gone, I'm gone

You go through life searchin' for love
And you're lucky if you find, yeah
Someone who cares about you so
And will never mislead you, no

But If you hide the way you feel
Why do you carry on?
'Cause I won't stay around
To wait on you to make up your mind, yeah

It can't keep goin' on
Like the feelin' doesn't exist
Or the one you love
Will be the one you miss

Then you'll dream about love and how it would be
But then you'll wake up to reality to find I'm gone, I'm gone
Then you'll start to think and reminisce
'Cause it's my hugs and kisses you'll miss
But I'm gone, I'm gone

It can't keep goin' on
Like the feelin' doesn't exist
Or the one you love
Will be the one you miss

Then you'll dream about love and how it would be
But then you'll wake up to reality to find I'm gone, I'm gone
Then you'll start to think and reminisce
'Cause it's my hugs and kisses you'll miss
But I'm gone, I'm gone

Then you'll dream about love and how it would be
But then you'll wake up to reality to find I'm gone, I'm gone
Then you'll start to think and reminisce
'Cause it's my hugs and kisses you'll miss

I'm gone, I'm gone

You'll dream about love and wake up
To find I'm gone, I'm gone
You'll start to think and reminisce
That I'm gone, I'm gone
