

Dead Heat

Diana Vickers

If I had to choose between oxygen and you
It'd be, a dead heat
'Cause there's something in your kiss
Turn me on like electricity
It hits me

Without you
I'm just the bones of who I want to be
And to lose you
Would be like losing half of my heart beat

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath
I'd sacrifice the sun
I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath
I'd sacrifice the sun
I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you

You're not my night and day
And without you, I'm okay
Yeah I, can get by
But there's something in your touch
An adrenaline rush inside, butterflies

Without you
I'm just a puzzle with a missing piece
And to lose you
Would be like losing my reason to breathe

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath
I'd sacrifice the sun
I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath
I'd sacrifice the sun
I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you

Without you
Without you
Without you

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath

I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you

It's not a matter of life and death
But if I had to choose between love and breath
I wouldn't have to think
Forever's a hell of a long time
Without you
