

Remake Me & You

Diana Vickers

You're still gone.
Maybe I should look for You.
Hiding corners,
baby i should be there too.
Its the only way we save us
Its who we are
Let's see where it will take us

I cant run to long
So we'd better find ourselves now
I don't think we're strong
So we better catch ourselves out

Here's my hand
Here's my hand
You can hold on too
Wheres your head, your head
There for thinking through
Here's my heart
Here's my heart
You can take it with you

Here's my hand
Here's my hand
You can hold on too
Wheres your head, your head
There for thinking through
Here's my heart
Here's my heart
You can take it with you
Take all of these parts and
Remake me and you
Remake me and

I can hold you but
My grip is not strong enough
Out of my hands
But you can sync us both back up
Where we went wrong
All I do is question it
Holding my tongue
All I want to do is admit that
I can't run too long
So we better find ourselves now
I don't think we're strong
So we better catch ourselves out

Here's my hand
Here's my hand
You can hold on too
Wheres your head, your head
There for thinking through
Here's my heart
Here's my heart
You can take it with you

Take all of these parts and

Remake me and you
Remake me and
Remake me and you
Remake me and
Remake me and you

Here's my hand
Here's my hand
You can hold on too
Wheres your head, your head
There for thinking through
Here's my heart
Here's my heart
You can take it with you

Here's my hand
Here's my hand
You can hold on too
Wheres your head, your head
There for thinking through
Here's my heart
Here's my heart
You can take it with you

Take all of these parts and
Remake me and you
Remake me and
Remake me and you
