

All The Love You Got

Diane Birch

I sit and wonder where you've gone
Have you found a head to crown
That stays under when
You push it down
I sit and ponder what went wrong
Was I too emotional
Too many puzzles
For your simple soul
Does she let you sleep
When she's awake

Does she close her eyes
Pay the asking price
Does she suffer with a smile
Take a penny for her soul that's all
Heart of loneliness
Drinks the honey of your promises
Does she know that's
All the love you got
That's all the love you got
Does she know that's
All the love you got

Tell me does it feel the same
Is she close enough to hurt
When she takes it does it
Make it worse
Can you still kill a perfect day
With a twinkle in your eye
Do you steal away
When she's asleep

Does she close her eyes
Pay the asking price
Does she suffer with a smile
Take a penny for her soul that's all
Heart of loneliness
Drinks the honey of your promises
Does she know that's
All the love you got
That's all the love you got

When she lets you lead the way
Does she wonder when
She'll get there
If you'll get there

Does she close her eyes
Pay the asking price
Does she suffer with a smile
Take a penny for her soul that's all
Heart of loneliness
Drinks the honey of your promises
Does she know that's
All the love you got
That's all the love you got

Does she know that's
All the love you got
That's all the love you got
Does she know that's
All the love you got
