

Walk The Rainbow To The End

Diane Birch

Hold tight to the hopes of a restless fool
Lady luck will be back for you
Don't loosen the ropes of a tie that binds
All we have are the things we do

Lost in the middle
Just you and me
It's hard to see
End from beginning
And up from down
It's a wild and wonderful dream

Come out swingin' my friend
Walk a straight line
Through the bend
Keep on climbin' that hill
Happiness is a sugar pill
Holy is the stone that brings you down
And spins your world around
Keep on swingin' my friend
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end

Hang tight it's 11:11
It ain't the time yet for sleepin' child
Don't reach for the fruit of an easy out
What is livin' if it don't get wild

Wait yes I remember you
It's funny how the time goes by
You look a little pale in your grown up style
We never should've said goodbye
We never should've said goodbye

Come back swingin' my friend
Walk a straight line
Through the bend
Keep on climbin' that hill
Happiness is a sugar pill
Holy is the stone that brings you down
And spins your world around
Keep on swingin' my friend
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end
Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end

Walk the rainbow to the end
To the end

I see your ghost in the broken window
I see your ghost in the TV screen
I see your ghost at the edge of the bridge
I see your ghost in a midnight dream

See your ghost in the dusty arrow
See your ghost in the pale moonbeam
See your ghost in the roll of a dice
I see your ghost in the in-between
