

Hiding Rivers

Diary of Dreams

Hiding your rivers
To color the grey
In her dreams she is hiding

For the shadows will stay

Does she remember
The grace of her light
Still embracing the sadness
And caressing the fight

Tell me you calm her
When she talks in her sleep
Promise you watch her
When she's helpless and weak

Hoping she's out there
Letting go when you say
That you always will find her
When she's daring to stray

Knowing in secret
Here you belong
My heart keeps on beating
As the days will move on

Tell me she dances
Like never before
Have you seen how she dances
Not to cry anymore

Tell me she dances
So the heart feels less sore
Have you seen how she dances
Not to cry anymore
