

HomeSick

Diary of Dreams

We doubt with all our heart and regret the things we did Everything is said and done
We pretend to be alone

Can we avoid the next step we do
Can we feel without even trying Can we whisper when we scream
Is it my silence that you bring to me

What I can say to you will never change a thought I whisper my good-bye to turn my back on you

In endless speeches
Day by day
We promise every word we say

We trust the ones we know to reject who need us most Too blind to see the grey that you carry in your eyes
