

Kingdom Of Greed

Diary of Dreams

You waited here in vain
You cannot forgive yourself
And the wonders of a lifetime
In each and everyone's face

Like a ship close to the shore
Like an anchor in the deep
Like the calm before the storm
Like a homeless back at home

Would we ever dare to see in it the beauty?
Will we ever see it's fine the way it is?

Could we make it all undone?
Would we dare now to start over
We fear the next step
Discouraged from the previous one

Like a ship close to the shore
Like an anchor in the deep
Like the calm before the storm
Like a homeless back at home

Would we ever dare to see in it the beauty?
Will we ever see it's fine the way it is?
