Nobody Left to Blame

Diary of Dreams

Until you put your spell on me I did not know - who you are A little incantation now You hypnotize the crowd

According to you
No-body else does matter now
According to you
Nothing else does matter now

Your wings can spread around the world Take all our sun away Absorb the human pleasure dome A lifetime in despair

I wonder how you lie to me without the use of words
I wonder why you came to me without a look into my eyes
