Odyssey Asylum

Diary of Dreams

The pride of the moment Lost now in memories The truth of this beauty In vague saturation

Embarrassed in silence Incantation implied A true liberation That no-one can fight

Please let the rain fall down on me Please let me feel the miracles of life

Stranded in peace
The joy of a weakness

No fear of seclusion

A life of it's own You love your illusions Without them, you're lost

Please let the rain wash away all my tears Please let me learn the spell of confusion

With endless compulsion Confess your defeat The obvious reason No need for a trial

Put an end to this fight
Take a rest from your odyssey
Let go of your world
Find peace here tonight
