

Undividable

Diary of Dreams

Is this the time and place?
The day I knew would come?
The very last embrace
United as we part

The loneliest of looks
A smile that I adore
I turn around to go
Feel shaken to the core

You came to fight in a war that's ended
We're undividable
You have to run but your feet are tired
So undividable
You came to fight in a war that's ended
We're undividable
You had to know how your mind was blinded
So undividable

In every crowd, I look,
I always see your face
I shut my eyes to find
Your perfume in the air

Protected memories
My focus magnetized
The bluest of all worlds
Alive in your brown eyes

We're undividable
So undividable
We're undividable
So undividable

You came to fight in a war that's ended
We're undividable
You have to run but your feet are tired
So undividable
You came to fight in a war that's ended
We're undividable
You had to know how your mind was blinded
So undividable
