Thought You Said

(baby, baby, baby)

Take a good look at me I done cried from the lies It hurts so bad inside If you need a thing ain't never had nothing to me break me down to the floor til I hide the pain And to show you your girlfriend What you had me thinking you word was your bond (don't you know) That your never gonna love if you knew it was a situation you knew you weren't ready for I could see if your feelings had changed but damn you just slammed the door You told me the one you said you would put down your whole life for I can comprehend

How can you turn on me (how can you how can you) How can you purposely (how can you how can you)

Lessened learned house can burn were close to heat Betcha words don't mean nothing to me Thought you said thought you said that you loved me Thought you said thought you said that you need me Thought you said thought you said you complete me Thought you said thought you said you were never gonna let it go Thought you said thought you said wen you held me Thought you said thought you said when'd you tell me Thought you said thought you said no one else could replace me Thought you said thought you said that your never gonna let it go

The times that you weren't there The times that you left me here The times that I needed you You know my love is true My passions inside for you The nights that I cried for you A man has these feelings too Same shit that chall go through I been here before Sometimes the pain you ignore Until its right at your door And then you just can't no more Why does love feel this way Why does it hurt so bad

Can't even look me in the face Why does love hurt this way

How can you turn on me (how can you how can you) How can you purposely (how can you how can you)

Lessened learned house can burn were close to heart Betcha words don't mean nothing to me Thought you said, thought you said that you loved me Thought you said thought you said that you need me Thought you said thought you said you complete me Thought you said thought you said you were never gonna let it go Thought you said thought you said when you held me Thought you said thought you said when'd you tell me Thought you said thought you said no one else could replace me Thought you said thought you said that you never gonna let it go The heartache and pain Sometimes it goes to your brain Sometimes it makes you insane Sometimes our joy is our pain 'cause it tears you apart these affairs of the heart I think I'm strong but I'm not And when I look in ya eyes you know it kills me inside But I can't wait for that day that you come back to me girl After we both go away its just to see if its real There's no denying the fact its meant to be If you let it go and then they come back. If this is our last dance we need to practice our steps, The situation I left behind but your hearts what I kept, You said I did you wrong you did me wrong we was both at fault And of course you lost me with your alibis and all of your talking And most important I just question my self The pain is taking over I can't believe (I need your hand) What happened then compared to now is dreams (I need your hand) And I know now that you'll, me I can't sleep, I can't breathe, I ain't eat in days, stomach pains from argu ing Didn't you cheat on me that's how the problems started And as far as I'm concerned we learned our lesson Well its all in the healing and that process has got me stressin' I'm so pressured I'm so physically drained I ain't thinkin' straight I loved you more than my own self Although I couldn't bear the pain of seein' my old self Young wild uncontrolled self I love you girl I don't need no one else Lessened learned house can burn were close to heart Betcha words don't mean nothing to me Thought you said, thought you said that you loved me Thought you said, thought you said that you need me Thought you said, thought you said complete me Thought you said, thought you said you were never gonna let it go Thought you said, thought you said when you held me Thought you said, thought you said when'd you tell me Thought you said, thought you said no one else could replace me Thought you said, thought you said that you never gonna let it go When I look in your eyes you know it kills me inside Didn't you, didn't you, didn't you, didn't you, ooh ooh Lesson learned House can burn We close to heat Bet your words don't mean nothing to me

These affairs of the heart I think I'm strong but I'm not

Thought you said thought you said that you love me Thought you said thought you said that you need me

Come back to me girl

How can you how can you Thought you said thought you said you complete me Thought you said thought you said you were never gonna let it go
