The Fire

Die Apokalyptischen Reiter

Destroyed what once burned so great and glorious inside me The fire that never seemed to fade The life took me every sense Unimportant all those years of striving for perfect glory.

The flame once burning so great and glorious turned me into sto ne

Love turned into hate, hope into pain You shall perish, you who took my dreams You shall die 1000 years, my hate is blind.