

The Ordinary Song

Die Happy

The brand new season just begun
The addicts come together
Pretty things for everyone
Who's gonna be the best
Just like shoplifters we try
To snatch the modern style
And we still think we're exceptional
Look around and watch us

It's like a competition
Fashion art
Here comes the mass hysteria

We are the ordinary people
Live an ordinary life
We are the ordinary people
Live in paradise

We are the ordinary people
Have an ordinary style
We are the ordinary people
Without compromise
Look alike
One like another

Dots and stripes meet red and blue
Did you hear that green's the new black
Some like the vintage stuff, some new
And the eighties are coming back
We just hide behind our clothes
Who cares if it's for less or more
Imagine we're all naked
And then!?
Nothing

We still are in competition
Cause we are just people
Fashion art exposition
Yes we love...

It's so wonderful we are so ordinary
We are different cause we are Always searching for the better
