The brand new season just begun
The addicts come together
Pretty things for everyone
Who's gonna be the best
Just like shoplifters we try
To snatch the modern style
And we still think we're exceptional
Look around and watch us

It's like a competition
Fashion art
Here comes the mass hysteria

We are the ordinary people Live an ordinary life We are the ordinary people Live in paradise

We are the ordinary people Have an ordinary style We are the ordinary people Without compromise Look alikes One like another

Dots and stripes meet red and blue
Did you hear that green's the new black
Some like the vintage stuff, some new
And the eighties are coming back
We just hide behind our clothes
Who cares if it's for less or more
Imagine we're all naked
And then!?
Nothing

We still are in competition Cause we are just people Fashion art exposition Yes we love...

It's so wonderful we are so ordinary We are different cause we are Always searching for the better
