You take, you take innocence And give it such a twist Life must be fought head to head If you are going to win I see, I see all the pain That causes misery Time and time again We must face all that's beckoning I believe in, I believe in, I believe in Ourselves to take what is thrown our way I believe in, I believe in, I believe in The one desire to never fail On broken legs I stand Salute with bloody hands I've signed my fate A sea of endless cries True honor never dies Never forget, never forget, it's not too late Divide, divide, everyone A will to segregate Never believe when you read Their string of bullshit Don't give, don't give into What they are forcing You must re-enforce What you know is true I believe in, I believe in, I believe in Ourselves to take what is thrown our way I believe in, I believe in, I believe in The one desire to never fail Re-enforce everything you know It is our tomorrow Re-enforce everything you know It is our tomorrow
