

I find it funny how you think you know me
To you it's all just a fucking game
I've heard enough, so shut up and show me
I promise you we'll never be the same
So come on bring the anger
Come on what you got my friend
You think you know me well you better think again

Come on, come on you wanna dance with the devil
Come on, come on you better pray for a miracle
Come on, come on if you survive this round
Step it up or you'll be going down

I think it's time you put your money where your mouth is
You better learn to love the feel of pain
You know my name, but you don't know about this
I'm on the edge of what they call insane
So come one bring the pressure
Come on how much can you take
You think you know me well I think that's your mistake

I think you might underestimate the fire within me
Such a fatal mistake to make so close to your enemy
I hope you're ready for another round
I'm never gonna back down, never gonna back down
You think you got it
You think you got what it takes to break me down
