

Not Even God

Digital Summer

Swallows? down your face tell another lie
Cover your disgrace whats your alibi?
(know you should know You reek what you sew)

Your consequence of ignorance
You can not run from this (your day is coming?)

How do you explain the lies when no one forgave you
Now it's time you realize not even God can save you
(NO)

Hiding from the truth is keeping you alive
With comets chasing you how long will you survive?
(you always looking over your shoulder)

You can't hold on, your not that strong
Your motives were all wrong
(the damage is done, there's nowhere to run)

And how do you explain the lies when no one forgave you
Now its time you realize not even god can save you
(NO)

So pathetic that I almost felt sorry for you
You made your bed, it's time to lay in it
You can't keep denying the truth

And how do you explain the lies when no one forgave you
Now it's time you realize not even God can save you
From the ashes, from the fire,
From the lack of your desire
From the consequence of truth
Accept your fate not even god can save you
(Not even god can save you)
