

In Silence

Dillon

Tinted in blue
The light reached for you
In silence you waited
Your breathing dictated
The pace of your thoughts
Of your senses and needs
You share a sadness
A hue so distinct

Emblazoned by the sky
Your eyes yearn for the night
A time of innocence
Appearing limitless

Tinted in blue
The light reached for you
Untroubled you waited
Observing the changes

Tinted in blue
The light reached for you
In safety you waited
Until time invaded
Your mind and took over
Your obscure retreat
You share a depth
A hue so discrete
