Good night, we're closing again Come back, we're open tomorrow We've finished today I'm just staying away We know what's good for the brain

Oh, plastic dreams and fast machines Pushing it to the limit Girls and boys who think that noise Is music in the air Twist that dial and stay awhile Here's your invitation Dirty rags and body bags Evilution

Hello, we're open once more
Come in, you need no appointment
We're thinking in time
That you'll move down the line
And represent the business in hell
Well, well

Tell her hope is gone but you carry on We can set the soul free All is lost so what's it costs
To listen anyway
The world upstairs where no-one cares
Is just about to crumble
See it through we'll burn for you
Evilution company

Oh, neon names play neon games
Showing it to the public
I hate you and you hate me
And everybody smiles
So money talks and no-one walks
But everybody's crawling
Golden rags and body bags
Evilution

Hello, good night, it's me I'm open again Come back, come in, good bye We're closed
