

Where Would I Go

Dionne Warwick

Why must I need someone who can't be true?
How can I take you back and love you?
Anyone but a fool would have too much pride
Anyone but a fool would run away and hide

If I left you
Oh, where would I go?

What makes you think we have a life to share
When in my heart I know you don't care?
Anyone but a fool would know what to do
Anyone but a fool could learn to say we're through

If I left you
Oh, where would I go?

Where would I go to escape all the tears?
To escape all the pain and the long, lonely years?
For the rest of my life I will be by your side
When a fool falls in love there is no place to hide
Where would I go?

If I left you
Oh, where would I go?

Where would I go to escape all the tears?
To escape all the pain and the long, lonely years?
For the rest of my life I will be by your side
When a fool falls in love there is no place to hide
Where would I go?

Where would I go to escape all the tears?
To escape all the pain and the long, lonely years?
For the rest of my life I will be by your side
When a fool falls in love...
