Diorama

we hold the course to glory and fame we are the shining iversion to pathetic wandering you're on the wrong track we're on the right if you don't change your horizon you will surely suffocate you used to say you want it too you used to say you need it so bad

ignore the old you're welcome in the new take on the shell you grow into there is a sense but not for you

what a wonderful world
what a wonderful world

don't get us dazed with genuine truth you're complicating the plan and we don't win no war with this don't read the small print don't chat away just be a copy and paste just be a cosmopolitan

you used to say you need it so bad

what a wonderful world
what a wonderful world
this is your grave now lie in it look at the stars and rest a bit
what a wonderful world
what a wonderful world

we own the definition power we rule the situation you're a vector a value a visitor you're a parameter a parameter

you used to say you need it so bad

what a wonderful world
what a wonderful world
this is your grave now lie in it
what a wonderful world

what a wonderful world
you don't need friends and enemies no self reliance no abilities
what a wonderful world
what a wonderful world
