

Prozac Junkies

Diorama

different light different meaning not imagined not unreal don't quit the friendship I'll agree prozac junkies like you prozac junkies like me

no control no reservation auto pilots by themselves the invisible enemy

give us the needle
take control
lead us to believe we're loved prozac junkies always find a way
prozac junkies always find a way

I'm the origin drawing lines from the mirror to the stars vectors through infinity and we'll be living on love

prozac junkies always find it's better like this better like this better like this better this

it's better like this

if only I could calm the dogs between my temples and there is nothing you can change there is nothing you can do just wait until it's over wait until it's over
