

Eternity

Disciple

All that is behind me, this mess of life
Where out of nothing came a beautiful design
Know that I've had but a taste of a deathless wine
So I give up the flame to the hands beside
And I'll be waiting

Where the desert is covered in roses
Where I can outshine the stars in a single daay
The face of God isn't hidden
When I wake into eternity

Where the shadows are never discovered
Tears are nothing more than a memory
Death isn't alive any longer
When I wake into eternity

Now I know I see it in your eyes
You knew at some point that we'd have to say goodbye
I looked for this moment for all my life
To be caught away in the arms of God
And I'll be waiting

Where the desert is covered in roses
Where I can outshine the stars in a single day
The face of God isn't hidden
When I wake into eternity

Where the shadows are never discovered
Tears are nothing more than a memory
Death isn't alive any longer
When I wake into eternity

When I awake I'll see Your face
When I awake I'll see Your face

Where the desert is covered in roses
Where I can outshine the stars in a single day
The face of God isn't hidden
When I wake into eternity

Where the shadows are never discovered
Tears are nothing more than a memory
Death isn't alive any longer
When I wake into eternity
