Scars Remain

Disciple

What is all this? The question I am asking It's not what is I feel like I was promised

This hurts, this leaves a lasting laceration I can't believe that this is what my faith was for

The scars remain, reminds of pain The scars remain

When I see You, I see scars that are matching When I see You, I see scars that are matching I know what I'm feeling You are feeling scars remaining through When I see You, I see scars

My feet will sink in this quicksand around me Unless Something or Someone comes to save me
