

Unbroken

Disciple

Inside my head there's a war tonight still no end in sight
And every breath is cold as ice but the fire will never die
Won't let myself be shaken by the way I see the times
There's an ending that's unseen that I choose to believe that I won't break

Holding on to the words You've spoken
Through the fight and the flames I'm not alone
My hope in You is set in stone
So let the sky fall down, the earthquake shake the ground
Whatever comes my way I know that
I'm coming out the other side Unbroken
I'm coming out Unbroken

You will give me strength and wings to fly to rise above the night
So come what may let the waters rise and I'll walk on the tides

Won't let my faith be haunted by the bones that lay behind Cause there's an ending that's unseen that I choose to believe that I won't break

Holding on to the words You've spoken
Through the fight and the flames I'm not alone
My hope in You is set in stone
So let the sky fall down, the earthquake shake the ground
Whatever comes my way I know that
I'm coming out the other side Unbroken
I'm coming out the other side Unbroken
I'm coming out Unbroken

So let sky fall down, the earthquake shake the ground
I am coming out, I'm coming out Unbroken

Holding on to the words You've spoken
Through the fight and the flames I'm not alone
My hope in You is set in stone
So let the sky fall down, the earthquake shake the ground
Whatever comes my way I know that
I'm coming out the other side Unbroken
I'm coming out the other side Unbroken
