

Worth It All

Disciple

It's worth it all
If I can just see You, feel You
It's worth it all
If there's just one that sees You, feels You
I know it will be worth it all

All the time it's taken
To be here in this place
The scars have left their mark
But I'm still running

Forgetting what is behind
I'm moving straight ahead
And I will run with a passion 'till I reach the end
I won't let my eyes move left to right
I'll run with all my heart, I'll give it all I got

It's worth it all
If I can just see You, feel You
It's worth it all
If there's just one that sees You, feels You
I know it will be worth it all

Remembering all those voices
Arrows that cut me down
There's something burning in me
That keeps me running
I know it will be worth it all
