

Worth the Pain

Disciple

The light at the end has faded away
One terror after another
Somewhere in the fire
The embers of faith
Will burn through tomorrow
You're breathing

It's worth the pain
It's worth the pain

It's worth the pain
God's in the rain
It's not too late to start again
It's worth the pain
So hold on tonight

Your passionate eyes try to explain
All the blindness you're feeling
The six feet of lies exposed in His fire
Resurrecting your sunrise
You're breathing

It's worth the pain
God's in the rain
It's not too late to start again
It's worth the pain
So hold on tonight

There's grace
When you're at your wit's end
Begging for it
He'll take you by the hand
There's grace

(It's not too late to start again
It's worth the pain
So hold on tonight)

It's worth the pain
God's in the rain
It's not too late to start again
It's worth the pain
So hold on tonight
It's worth the pain
God's in the rain
It's not too late to start again
It's worth the pain
So hold on tonight
