What can you sell when the river is running dry?
What can you know when you carry away your time?
What can you do when they finally find out,
They finally find out, they finally find out the truth?

Where can you go when your face don't match your name?
Where can you go when your voice don't match a thing?
What can you do when they finally find out,
They finally find out, they finally find out the truth?
