

take the hip from the battlefield under awning yawning like fallen limb i'm just as much a part of it
but i take my own hand and i squeeze at the blue i break my own hand
just to push it through
push it through
a defect health
lost score
other soar
because honesty is not knowing the difference between where and when
am i out am i in?
step closer to the lighter boy light a fire around those tired eyes the heat perspires
retires your disguise
you fall in
you fall out
step in to the office
