

So Much Time

Dishwalla

You were so perfect, I couldn't see
That something was broken underneath
That you were so fragile, a landslide
You could give away

Pulling the world up overhead
You want me to pull you from the ledge
But I've got no answers in the end
I hope you understand

So much time has passed us by
Though you try to make things right
You just give away tonight

Life was so perfect, we couldn't see
That something was broken underneath
That life is so fragile, a landslide
We could give way

So much time has passed us by
Though you try to make things right
You could give away tonight

You could give away, we could give way
'Cause there is so much time
'Cause there is so much time

So much time has passed us by
Though we try to make things right
We could just give away

So much time has passed us by
Though you try to make things right
You just give away tonight

You just give away, you just give away
'Cause there's so much time
You just give away

You just give away tonight
'Cause there's so much time
You just give away tonight
You just give away tonight
'Cause there's so much time
