

Shine For Me, Misery

Dismal Euphony

Shine for me, misery
Devils rapture their coils
Suffer the fathomless end
Until we parche with sermons again

Strangle me slowly
Enter my palace of pain, of pain
Strangle me slowly
Enter my palace of pain, of pain

Cover your screams
'Cause the wind will carry all your words away (away)

Pass me the bottle
Pass me this venomous wine
Pass me this deadly brew
And I will drink and die, again

Pass me the bottle
Pass me this venomous wine
Pass me this deadly brew
And I will drink and die, again

Shine for me lust and thorns
Compromise carven in suns
Hatred of my own feet
I will never be able to walk this ground, again

The rain has waited too long, too long
Pass me the bottle and I will drink and die again

Shine for me, misery!
Shine for me, misery!
Shine for me, misery!
Shine for me, misery!

The rain has waited too long, too long
Pass me the bottle and I will drink and die again
