

Afterimage

Dismember

Given a gun become god for a day on my way to carry it all out take on blowing the bitterness away contribute with my share of grief from being trapped in life become a prisoner in death if there was something else worth dying for i'd give myself

A promise of blood in the air blow it up burn it down for all I care