

Stillborn Ways

Dismember

In darkness embraced so dead still so near come walk towards the voices you fear let the impact of reality fade of what you don't believe how could you be afraid

Rape the minds of generations to come forgiving is living revenge to some living ghost behind a spirit killing face stillborn ways of a mindfucking race

Shape the twisted into never sleeping mourners of god die screaming no more forever weeping through hostile eyes never closing let me inside to live the religious decomposing

Warped, deranged to see dying walls inside a kingdom not to be entries of fanatic delusions lose their way in the wheels of confusion
