

Rice Water

Dispatch

It's time to wake up
We're already underway
See the moon in the river, she chases the train so close
To where we want to be

Keep it tight
Hold your head in
There are eyes on the road that'll do us in
And I can't go back again

'Cause we don't even need rice, like we don't need water
We don't even need eyes, we don't even need God
We don't even need peace, like we don't need laughter
We don't even need guns, we don't even need war

Are you ok?
That was a rough one you had the other day
Do you care for a cup of tea
It'll get you high
And where you want to be

Keep it tight
Hold your head in
There are eyes on the road that'll do us in

Keep it tight
Hold your head in
There are eyes on the road that'll do us in
And I can't go back again

"Cause we don't even need rice, like we don't need water
We don't even need eyes, we don't even need God
We don't even need peace, like we don't need laughter
We don't even need guns but they love their war

So pull me up hard like, like I was your last friend in the world
Let me down easy, hurt my arm trying to save that girl
You think she's alright, you think someone grabbed her knees
You think she gonna make it, 2 days to go 'til the river please

Keep it tight
Hold your head in
There are eyes on the road that'll do us in

Keep it tight
Hold your head in
There are eyes on the road that'll do us, sure they'll do us in
And I can't go back again

'Cause we don't even need rice, like we don't need water
We don't even need eyes, we don't even need God
We don't even need peace, like we don't need laughter
We don't even need guns but they love their war

We don't even need flags, like we don't need color
We don't even need lies, but the lie's alright
We don't even need roads, I'll see you there after

Faster than the highest wall they'll build

Do you care for a cup of tea

It'll get you high

High
