

Sickened

Disturbed

Take me away yeah!

That's enough from all your taunting
Seems I can't remove you from my mind
Don't you know that sometimes
I wish they'd kill me from wanting you
I will sit alone in silence
Can't allow the meaning I can find
Will you be defeated when they
Kill me from wanting you

I can't believe my sanity
Lies in abandoning you
I can't recall the helpless times
I've been betrayed by you

Sickened from wanting you
Frightened of finding the truth
Don't say anymore
Now my mind isn't changing
This reckoning's long overdue

All past the walls around me
In the prison of my own design
Will I win my freedom when they
Kill me from wanting you
Maybe the arms of Hell will hound me
Just as long as I remain confined
I will be completed when they
Kill me from wanting you

I can't believe my sanity
Lies in abandoning you
I can't recall the helpless times
I've been betrayed by you

Sickened from wanting you
Frightened of finding the truth
Don't say anymore
Now my mind isn't changing
This reckoning's long overdue

So I have determined I am long done
When I bury another problem
In the graveyard you allowed me to find
So I have determined I am no one
When I finally cling to something
And it's never been tied to
Every single memory of you

Sickened from wanting you
Frightened of finding the truth
Don't say anymore
Now my mind isn't changing
This reckoning's long overdue

So I have determined I am long done

When I bury another problem
In the graveyard you allowed me to find
