It starts off with a lie
Better yet, a bending of the truth
That hurts like an aching in your tooth
So subtle and yet so strong,
TheyDll believe its true, so you just ignore that itDs wrong
ItDs like a string that keeps tugging at your soul
If something doesnDt change then you swear itDd gonna swallow you whole,
Tongue tied and out of touch
Never thought itDd hurt this much

Just let it go
The storm is over now
Just let it out
The sun will shine, the tides are turning
The flames may be low, but they□re still burning
Just try,
Tonight..
You only get one life to live
So live it out until your days are gone

Times change, but people never do We both know I changed myself for you You Tre everything that I ever wanted The only thing that I ever wanted Was to see a smile across your face But now we Tre stuck in the same place

Just let it go
The storm is over now
Just let it out
The sun will shine, the tides are turning
The flames may be low, but theyDre still burning
Just try,
Tonight..
You only get one life to live
So live it out until your days are gone

And  $I \square m$  waiting on you.. And  $I \square m$  waiting On you..

Just let it go,
Just leave the past behind
And then you know that you will find
Everything that you have been Looking for..

Just let it go,
The storm is over now
Just let it out
The sun will rise

For you It□s not the end

For you, tonight Tištěno holding czon
